

Angie, her husband Ben and their kids Nic (17) and Halley (15) have lived in Dallas Center since 2011. Angie and Ben both received their undergraduate degree from Iowa State. Angie then received her master's degree from Morningside College. She has been a middle school science teacher since 2001.

She has been involved in various activities that support the DCG School District. She has served on the Bestenlegner Dallas Center-Grimes Scholarship Committee, volunteered to be on the SIAC team, helped out in various ways with sports and fine arts activities. In addition to being involved in the school, I have also volunteered for different activities for our FALL FEST.

Angie loves to be involved in her community and to give back in a positive way. She is very excited and looking forward to serving Dallas Center the best she can.
